

The Open Gate

*Thoughts surround your mind today
That cause your heart to grieve
The moment is approaching
When you will turn to leave.*

*Envision with me if you will
A place beyond death's gate
Life goes on forever there
And beauty never fades.*

*Sickness can't gain entrance
And death has lost its hold
Tears are wiped by God's own hand
And no one can grow old.*

*The moment that I left you here
I stepped into that place
Prepared for me and ready
When I stepped through the gate.*
